BIRD PARK

Wild life sanctuary

The biggest Bird Sanctuary in all over South America with more than 800 species!

Caymans, fresh-water turtles and snakes as well. Among birds some of the most beautiful specimens of Brazilian avi-fauna like: Toucans, Macaws and Eagles.

The Bird Park is not just a regular Zoo, it goes much further, recovering wounded animals from Biopiracy, breeding endangered species in captivity and environmental classes for kids and community.

The proximity to the birds is incredible, they live in big sanctuaries same size as a real house, one gets to step inside and interact with them.

Sightseeing

The tour consists in a one mile walk throughout the entire area of the Bird Park. There is no turns so all You have got to do is to follow the path and cover every single one of the Sanctuaries.

There is only one rule, the entrance to the Sanctuaries is via a small corridor: Never opens the door ahead of You before the one behind is totally close.

Butterflies

Also a very special Butterfly sanctuary with many local species make this tour even more spectacular.

Conservation

The whole staff of the Bird Park is very proud about the work They do, besides taking care of many different species, They bring kids from local communities for Environmental Classes.

Kids spend the whole day learning and being educated about the importance of preserving nature.
